The aims of the project

- To analyze, monitor and research existing tools and methods of civic e-participation
- To present these tools in a youth-friendly way, along with practical examples, making them easier to understand and more accessible to EU citizens
- To educate, train and empower both young citizens and municipal employees on e-participation tools and concepts such as e-democracy, participatory approaches for local governance etc.

- To identify and exchange European good practices in the field of e-participation between European municipalities
- To identify common local issues and challenges and work together on common solutions
- To boost online engagement and eventually increase levels of participation of EU citizens
